

The Magnitude of Our Inheritance

For ye are not as yet come to the rest and to the inheritance, which the LORD your God giveth you (Deuteronomy 12: 9)

Dear Journeyer ...

Have we even touched the surface of this inheritance? How many more minutes, hours, days, years will continue to pass by as we live way below the level of blessings He intended for us?

As I was traveling today, I almost felt choked with tears as I heard while in a deep sleep on the plane: “When will my people answer my call?” I jumped up, grabbed my laptop and started writing. Scriptures kept flooding into my mind faster than I could find the precise verses in the Bible here on my computer. This was yet another confirmation that we have not even tapped into what is resident right within us!

Today I present us with a tough reality – how can we possibly allow the world to cause us such pain, sleeplessness, disillusionment, loss of hope, feeling of not being loved and so forth? How can we ourselves question our current circumstances? Daily we ask ‘Why God?’ when we have full access to all He has opened His heart and His Hand and has given to us - His life, His love, His peace, His righteousness, His very nature?

We talk about change in the world today and understandably so – but have we paused to consider that even in a time when earthly change is reaching an all-time high – there is One part of our life that remains changeless? Yes, Him! He is the anchor when the waters get rough; He is the light when darkness enters; He is the hope when all else fails; He is the life when death seems all around us. Dearest One, while we deal with the change all around us – please let us remember that within us – we house the most powerful and wonderful spring of life: our Father. He chose to rest within us when He made us His temple. Is He enjoying this rest? Or is His rest disturbed by the many, many things that we are allowing to throw a mirage over the true blessing just waiting at our doorstep?

We have tried finding peace in people, places, things, church, our profession, our families, our children, our closest friends, our belongings. Quit – please. None of these can give us peace – only His love can. We can enjoy these various blessings in our lives but please do not put the weight on any of them to give us inner peace – they cannot.

Please let us answer His call today as we promise to at least try to embrace all that He has for us. He knows our human limitations and loves us nevertheless. But, oh, how He longs to see us enjoy all that He invested in and for us – even before we were born.

Let us look in the mirror today and accept that like Him – we are in the world but not of the world. Let us accept that that no matter what happens, we ‘are’ worthy of Him – ‘He’ decided this – we did not. No matter what has dared to cause us to question, hurt, lose hope. It is time to surrender to His love. Face it – with all that is happening in the world today – we see many becoming victims of insanity. Why? Because the time is coming when the human effort will no longer be enough to withstand the insanity we will see all around us. Let us give Him our lives, our hearts, our minds so that He can keep us safe, secured and sane in Him.

I will continue this message in much detail later on as part of my book: “Inspirational Writings from the Garden of Gethsemane” that is being worked on now.

But dearest one, for now – I kindly ask you to take some time off as soon as you are able to and reflect on these things – give yourself a private retreat – you are worth it!. If you question your worth in Him; If you do not believe that He cares; if you do not understand what He has in store for you then I take you to the following precious scriptures. Do not rush through them – in fact take one at a time and go before Him until He helps you to fully understand what ‘each’ one means and until He helps you make each of these scriptures ‘resident’ within you. I will be doing the same. Let us use this as an introspection exercise as we feel free to go into quiet and talk with the greatest Friend of all ... Our Father!

May your journey with the scriptures below be a blessing to you!

| Do we question that He wants to heal us? It does not matter how our body feels or what medical professionals tell us – He ‘made’ this body – it is precious to Him – let us pause and dare to challenge the drugs we are lacing our bodies with daily – ‘each’ one has side effects. | possible – just balance this with His warning to us to store treasures in Heaven and not on earth. The greatest wealth He can give us are the things of Him! | ¹⁸ But thou shalt remember the LORD thy God: for it is he that giveth thee power to get wealth, that he may establish his covenant which he sware unto thy fathers, as it is this day. |

| Put on the garment of praise as you take off the cloak of mourning – He wants joy for you! | Isaiah 61 ³ To appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the LORD, that he might be glorified. |
| Get ready – for the great things that He is yet to show you! | John 5 ²⁰ For the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and he will shew him greater works than these, that ye may marvel. |

In closing ... the Father is asking us the following question today – in light of all that we are experiencing in the world today - He is simply asking ... “Wilt thou be made whole?” (John 5:6).

Your Sister in Him always,

Dale
